Published quarterly by Maryville College. Entered May 24, 1904, at Maryville, Tennessee, as second-class mail matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized February 10, 1919.

DONALD BRIGGS, '33
President of the Maryville College
Alumni Association

Dear Alumni:

As my year as President of the Alumni Association nears completion, I am impressed with two principal sources of cooperation.

First of all, I am glad to state that your Alumni officers are afforded most effective and sympathetic help by the College. Of course, this assistance is spearheaded by our own Scotty, but is shared by many others, including President Lloyd.

Secondly, we have been most encouraged by your responses to inquiries and suggestions made during the past several months. For example:

1. You gave an overwhelmingly affirmative vote on the Alumni Directory (I understand the books will be ready very soon).
2. You sent in your Bucks-of-the-Month at a better rate than ever.
3. Many of you sent in for copies of the brochures for prospective new students – An Invitation to Your Future and the Maryville College View Book called For the Best Years of Your Life.
4. A fine crowd turned out for the Homecoming (and we hope to see many more on Alumni Day– May 17).

Again, thanks for your encouragement. Let's do even better for your new officers of the 1958-59 year.

Sincerely
DON BRIGGS.

RALPH W. LLOYD
President of Maryville College

DEAR ALUMNI:

1. THE CLOSE OF ANOTHER COLLEGE YEAR is rushing upon us. The campus calendar for the next few weeks is, as usual, too crowded for the good of intellectual work. But it is a season of real interest and excitement. We are all carried forward by the graduation prospects and program of the senior class. It comprises a considerable segment of our college population, and because receiving a college degree is a first experience for the seniors each year, it never really grows old to the others of us who formulate the program and have personal interest in the graduates. The academic year closes with Commencement on May 21 and the fiscal year on May 31.

2. CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW DORMITORY should be underway by Commencement Day, although we have falsely predicted this so often that I hesitate to do it here. But I shall take the risk again. We have worked over the general design and the details more than might seem necessary because we are thinking of this as a study in what yet other dormitories might be in the future. Starting at this time means occupancy after Christmas rather than in September. But it will be an interesting and impressive building.

3. SPECIAL COMMUNITY SERVICES by the College are increasing greatly. I hope you have read and will read again the impressive list on page seven of the Alumni Bulletin published last fall. Additional services have developed since then and others are in the planning stage. For example, in April there was held for the first time a religious drama workshop, attended by people from Maryville, Alcoa, Knoxville, and other communities. The teaching of foreign languages by college students in the elementary grades will probably expand in the fall from one to three schools upon earnest request of parents and schools. There is a limit to time, personnel, money, and logical offerings, but we are giving new study to college-community cooperation. Part of the impetus is from the study and work of the present Long-Range Planning Committee.

4. PARTICIPATION OF THE FACULTY in Long-Range Planning has been active during the current college year. At the suggestion of the Long-Range Planning Committee of thirteen, established by the Directors, I appointed seventeen faculty-staff committees of three to five members each to study and report their findings and opinions on seventeen phases of the College's present and future life and work. Their reports are now being formulated and all that are ready will be transmitted to the Long-Range Planning Committee when it meets May 2-3. Faculty-staff reports will continue to be received through next fall.

5. THE COLLEGE'S CHURCH AFFILIATION will continue to be legally and functionally as in the past, but there are some new structures and relationships coming up. In June, the Synod of Mid-South, to which the College is organically related, will merge with the Synod of Blue Ridge, which consists of three presbyteries of Negro members, retaining the present name of Synod of Mid-South.

On May 28, the Presbyterian Church in the USA, with which the College is affiliated, will unite with the United Presbyterian Church of North America to form the United Presbyterian Church in the USA. This will be an historic occasion in which all Presbyterians will rejoice.

6. THERE WILL BE A MARYVILLE COLLEGE BREAKFAST at the Presbyterian General Assembly in Pittsburgh on Saturday, May 31, at 7:30 a. m. The exact place is not yet known, but it will be near the Syria Mosque, where the General Assembly meets, and there will be notices and posters on which to sign posted at Syria Mosque.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph Waldo Lloyd

COMMENCEMENT — 1958

Commencement Day is Wednesday, May 21. Alumni Day is scheduled for the preceding Saturday, May 17, followed by Baccalaureate Sunday on May 18. Other important days and events are given on the calendar printed on the inside of the front cover.

Judging from the early start several of the reunion classes have made in their planning, the attendance for the Alumni Day observance this year may well set a new record. The schedule of events is as follows:

(1) 8:00 a. m.—Senior Chapel; (2) 1:00 p. m.—Alumni Luncheon (for those not involved in reunion plans); 3:00 p. m.—Officers' Reception; 5:00 p. m.—Annual Alumni Meeting in Fine Arts Center; 6:30 p.m.—Alumni Dinner.

Registration will take place in the foyer of the Chapel-Theatre during the morning. This is your opportunity to meet old classmates and renew acquaintances. As has been the case for the past two or three years, there will be on exhibit a number of old pictures, annuals, and other relics of a by-gone era. A picture of the football team of 1894, believed to be the oldest Maryville College football picture now extant, will be on exhibition.

The reunion classes will be booked for their several luncheon engagements. For those not involved in reunions, there will be a general alumni luncheon at one o'clock in a nearby restaurant. We would like to have your reservation for this.

At three o'clock, the annual reception, a new feature, will be held on the lawn near Thaw Hall. The College Band will play during this event, another departure from previous Alumni Day practices.

Note that the time of the Dinner has been changed from seven o'clock to six-thirty. There will be no formal address at the dinner.

Following a long-established Maryville tradition, President Lloyd will preach the Baccalaureate sermon. The speaker at Commencement Vespers in the evening of Baccalaureate Sunday will be the Rev. Jose Borges dos Santos, Jr., of Sao Paulo, Brazil, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Brazil.

It will be noted that the Commencement Play this year is Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, and that it will be given three times — Friday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings. It is under the direction of Miss Kathleen Craven, assistant professor of Drama and Speech, and will be performed in the magnificent College Theatre which is a major unit of the Samuel Tyndale Wilson Chapel. Alumni, parents, students, and their friends are invited to the reception given by President and Mrs. Lloyd at their home on the afternoon before Commencement Day.

There will be 130 seniors in the graduating class this year, of whom fifteen completed their work at the end of the first semester.

THE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

The Commencement address on May 21 will be given by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. One of the best known and most influential church leaders of the day, Dr. Blake holds a prominent place also in the field of higher education.

His permanent official position is that of Stated Clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. This is generally regarded as the chief executive office in his Church, which is the largest of Presbyterian bodies in the world.

Dr. Blake has been the most influential Protestant voice in America during the past three years when he was President of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. He has traveled and spoken in many countries of the world, and was the leader of a distinguished delegation to Russia two years ago. His writings and nation-wide TV appearances are numerous. He is Chairman of the Finance Committee and member of the Executive Committee of the World Council of Churches, and serves on many other committees and boards.

Prior to assuming the position of Stated Clerk of the Presbyterian, USA, General Assembly seven years ago, Dr. Blake was Pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church in California, a great church of four thousand members. He was graduated with honors in philosophy from Princeton University, where he was a member of the varsity football team for three years, and from Princeton Theological Seminary. He is now on the Boards of Directors of both of these institutions. Between college and seminary, he taught a year in India and studied a year at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He began his ministry in 1932 as assistant pastor at St. Nicholas Collegiate Church on Fifth Avenue in New York City, became pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Albany, New York, in 1935, and of the Pasadena Church in 1940.

NEW BUILDING

After a frustrating series of delays, plans for the long discussed new dormitory for women have been completed and approved by all responsible parties—associated architects, Maryville College, U. S. Housing and Home Finance officials in Atlanta, and the officials who administer the new Maryville City building code.

In April working drawings and specifications were put out for bids, which are due to be opened on May 6. If there is a satisfactory bid received, it is our purpose to award a contract and break ground immediately. We hope to move into the building in January, 1959.

It will be a superior fireproof building of brick, concrete, steel, glass, and aluminum. The style will be contemporary. The location will be on the high ground near the site of the former Lamar house east of Pearsons and northeast of Willard House (the President's former home).

There will be four floors including: (1) a ground floor containing a large lobby, the housemother's apartment, the dormitory office, and two guest rooms; (2) two student residence floors, each with twenty-four double rooms, and ample toilet, bath, and laundry facilities; (3) a large basement designed for recreational and utility purposes.

There will be broad overhangs front and back, and perforated brick walls enclosing courts at both ends of the building.

CARNEGIE HALL REHABILITATION

The long-term loan of $400,000 to Maryville College approved by the U. S. Housing and Finance Agency, is designated for the new women's dormitory and for remodeling, repairing, or renewing (the Federal Government's word is rehabilitating) Carnegie, Memorial, and Pearsons Halls. About one-half of the money will be added to the $204,000 received from gifts to build the new dormitory, and the other half will be divided among the three old dormitories.

Carnegie Hall

Because we cannot spare dormitories during the college sessions, the rehabilitation must be done in summer, and we have been given the two summers of 1958 and 1959 to complete the work. We are taking the largest and most needy building first – Carnegie. Barber and McMurry, Architects, Knoxville, have drawn plans which we have approved.

The building now houses 218 men. The enlarging of recreation and lounge space, of bathrooms, and of several small residence rooms will reduce the capacity to 191. The apartments in the two wings, the small first-floor apartment for the Housemother, the guest room, and the dormitory office, will be retained.

The major renewals will consist of new equipment in the eight bathrooms; two new steel stairways from the basement to the fourth floor; new main entrances at the two ends of the building; hardwood flooring in all student rooms and in the fourth floor corridor (first, second, and third floor corridors have in the past few years been renewed with hardwood); new doors to all student rooms; new window sills in much of the building, and new windows as well as window sills on the fourth floor and elsewhere; and the enlarged recreation and lounge facilities.

Work will start immediately after Commencement and must be completed by September 1. All furniture now in the building will be stored for the summer in the Intramural Gymnasium (incidentally, but seriously, remodeling the building is going to make some of the furniture look older than ever).

Because of the need of dormitory rooms for Synod and other church conferences in June, work in Memorial and Pearsons will not be done until next year.

Pearsons Hall

Someone will certainly ask, "Why is Baldwin Hall not designated in the loan? Is it not the same age as Memorial and does it not have equal need of rehabilitation?" Yes, the front part of it is of the same age and structure as is Memorial. But the long extension containing two-thirds of the rooms, part built in 1895 and part in 1904, is of inferior materials and construction. Also, a campus master-plan being developed calls for Baldwin to be replaced some day by a more general-duty building, perhaps one for administrative offices, since the location is conveniently available to the main campus gates, and is near the new general duty buildings (Chapel, Theater, Fine Arts Music Hall). Baldwin is in need of considerable rehabilitation, but since it is not to be a permanent building, it is not designated in the U. S. Loan. We cannot spare it until a second new women's dormitory is built, which probably put its removal some years in the future unless a friend with funds comes forward.

The Championship Maryville College Debate Team.

FORENSICS OF FIFTY-EIGHT

The Maryville College Debate team won outstanding recognition for its performance during the season just concluded. Of the five tournaments in which the team was entered the MC debaters took sweepstakes honors in four, a record which is hard to beat.

Perhaps the best achievement of the team was the winning of the three-day, eight-state Pi Kappa Delta tournament on the week-end of April 12-13 at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

On a combined points total, involving debate, oratory, after-dinner, and extemporaneous speaking and discussion, Maryville won the tournament's only superior rating in the women's sweepstakes division. Miss Corita Erwin and Miss Eleonore Koster composed the women's debate team. Miss Margaret Paterson entered two individual contests, winning several points toward the sweepstakes.

In the men's division, with Robert Goodlin and Keith Ham teaming up, Maryville won an excellent rating. Taking the men's and women's division together, Maryville College garnered the highest number of points of all thirteen competing schools. In the debate contest alone, both men's and women's teams from the Hill received a rating of excellent.

In individual debates, Miss Koster received a rating of superior and Keith Ham a rating of excellent. The same two debaters received ratings of superior in after-dinner speaking. In extemporaneous speaking, Miss Koster received a rating of superior. Both Margaret Paterson and Keith Ham reached the finals in that event.

In oratory, Keith Ham received a rating of superior; Bob Goodlin, superior; Corita Erwin, excellent; and Eleonore Koster, excellent. In addition, Miss Koster received a rating of excellent in the discussion event. Coach for the team is Newell Witherspoon, assistant professor of Economics and Business Administration.

A GRASS ROOTS PUBLIC RELATIONS PROGRAM

A "grass roots, get-out-the-local vote" public relations program was launched this year with excellent support from the top-notch debate team members, with the idea of encouraging high school seniors in the immediate Maryville area to attend the College.

A number of engagements were booked, mostly for assembly programs in the high schools, occasionally for a senior group or a junior-senior assemblage.

A lively, semi-humorous skit entitled So This is College was written by Miss Eleonore Koster and Robert Goodlin of the debate team and produced at these programs. At least one high school which was visited by the "troupe" acclaimed it as the best program they had ever had! The College director of public relations booked the engagements and introduced the speakers. Eleonore and Bob handled the assignments at several high schools and were aided by Corita Erwin and Dale Young toward the end of the season when it became rather urgent that the original duo concentrate upon the matter of studying for examinations!

The program at Friendsville High School was done exceptionally well on short notice when Miss Ann Wiley and John West, two seniors, came to Scotty's rescue when it was discovered at the last minute that the debaters were to be out of town when the visit to Friendsville was planned.

Schools which were visited during the past few weeks were as follows: Everett, Alcoa, Porter, Friendsville, Maryville, Lenoir City, Madisonville, Townsend, and Lanier. Miss June Keeney, another senior, helped represent Maryville College at a College Day program at Clinton High School in April.

Several applications which may be attributed to these visits have already been noted.

Week-end visits to the Maryville College campus by high school seniors from these and other schools have been scheduled this spring. This is a practice which was begun last year with considerable success. It is a pleasure to be able to report that applications for next fall are coming in at a very healthy rate, indicating that these activities are not in vain.

THE ANNUAL MATHEMATICS CONTEST

Nearly three hundred high school students representing Blount, Sevier, Loudon, and Monroe counties participated in the second annual mathematics contest held in the Chapel on Friday, April 18. Maryville College was designated as one of the seventeen testing centers throughout the state. The number of entries this year was nearly double the number which took the examinations last year at Maryville. The competition is sponsored on a state-wide basis by the Tennessee Teachers of Mathematics Association. It is open to all public, private, and parochial schools in the state.

Subject areas for the testing program include first and second year algebra, plane geometry, and a comprehensive mathematics examination for high school seniors only. Examinations are of the multiple choice type and last for one hour.

The contest brings to the campus each spring some of the outstanding students in area high schools. Teachers accompany the students as sponsors, and all are served a picnic lunch on the campus. Professor Mack Tolar, of the Maryville College faculty, was one of the original sponsors of the competition. Last year, he served as state chairman of the event, and this year, he was chairman of the East Tennessee division. The competition has come to be regarded as one of the outstanding public relations events for the College, as the participating students are naturally of high calibre. Each school selects the entries carefully, so that the participants represent the real top-notchers in math.

The College this year awarded a $200 scholarship to the winner of the comprehensive mathematics contest. Cash awards were given to the first three places in each of the four divisions.

Special importance was attached to the competition this year in view of the fact that several bills are now pending before Congress which will provide aid in stimulating the study of science and mathematics in secondary schools. Students in high schools which have participated in contests similar to the state math competition may therefore enjoy a preferred position in the awarding of national scholarships as proposed in pending legislation.

Alumni may take pride in the important role their Alma Mater is playing in this state-wide recognition of the growing significance of mathematics and the sciences.

DR. BRIGGS AND HYPNOSIS EXPERIMENT

Dr. David H. Briggs, '19, head of the Maryville College psychology and education department for the past 22 years, has suddenly found himself in the limelight as the result of experiments in hypnosis which he has been conducting in the classroom. An article in THE KNOXVILLE NEWS-SENTINEL by staff writer Homer Clonts started the wires buzzing and Dr. Briggs and his work were described in newspapers all over the country. NEWSWEEK took notice of the experiments and the Alumni Office received a number of delighted comments from individuals throughout the nation. Don Briggs, the Alumni Association president (no relation), says that the story was not only carried in the New York press but also was featured as top news on the metropolitan TV.

Actually, Dr. Briggs does not practice any mumbo-jumbo or invoke mysterious spirits. The idea which he has put into practice with considerable success is to hypnotize students so that they forget the deep-seated blocks in their sub-conscious mind to enable them to retain more easily what he teaches them. He has found through serious experimentation that students who succumb to his suggestions make from 12 to 15 per cent better grades than those who don't.

Extensive use is made of wire recordings of Dr. Briggs' voice. Students drop off to sleep one by one. At the time of the visit by Homer Clonts, 28 seniors and juniors in a mental hygiene class dropped into a deep sleep for about thirty minutes. Although it was April 1, Mr. Clonts pointed out that it was no "April Fool" joke!

Dr. Briggs is very seriously interested in the idea, and College authorities believe it is very worth while. Efforts are being made to find an individual or organization that will furnish funds for a year of intensive research by Dr. Briggs in the educational value of hypnosis.

High School students from Blount County's Everett High School register for the annual Mathematics Contest in the Chapel-Theatre.

Religious Drama Workshop

RELIGIOUS DRAMA WORKSHOP

A Religious Drama Workshop sponsored by the Drama Department of Maryville College under the direction of Miss Kathleen Craven was held at the College on Saturday, April 12. This was another of the highly significant events which is making the College more and more a community—in fact, an East Tennessee — asset.

The program was an all-day affair and a total of between fifty-five and sixty people registered. The general consensus of opinion was that the workshop was a great success.

One of the outstanding features was a panel discussion on the Uses of Drama in the Church, with Dr. Curtis Wagner, pastor of First Methodist Church in Knoxville, Mrs. Thelma Kramer, a member of the College faculty, and Miss Shirley Harris, director of Christian Education in Faith Cooperative Parish, as participants. Mrs. Ralph Spraker, of Maryville, discussed the writing and production of pageants. A demonstration of lighting by E. P. Dupler, of the Knoxville Scenic Studios, and a demonstration of make-up by Miss Marcia Williams, director of Christian Education at Northside Presbyterian Church in Chattanooga, were among the other features. Drama majors of the College conducted a demonstration of costuming and setting the church play. Displays of make-up, costumes, wigs, books about the theatre, and copies of religious plays from several of the larger supply houses in the country were on exhibit in the Theatre lobby.

THE 1958 FEBRUARY MEETINGS

The influence of the February Meetings, held January 29 to February 5, was both wide and deep. This was the 82nd series. The first was in 1877.

The preacher was Rev. Dr. James R. Hine, Director of the Presbyterian Student Foundation and Pastor of McKinley Memorial Church, University of Illinois, Champaign, Illinois. He understands students and presented with unusual appeal the call of Christ to Christian belief, character, and service.

The song leader was Rev. Dr. JoeEd Hollis, Minister of Education and Music, First Presbyterian Church, Daytona Beach, Florida. He is associated with Rev. Dr. Paul M. Edris of the Maryville Class of 1932.

For the seventh year Dr. Henry (Barrie) Barraclough was the guest accompanist.

Plans for the 1959 Meetings are already in process.

RETIREMENT OF MISS McCORKLE

At April 1, 1958, Miss Jessie Eleanor McCorkle retired from the Maryville College staff after a service of twenty-nine years.

At first she was an assistant in Baldwin Hall and worked part time in the Treasurer's Office. Later she became a full-time assistant in the Treasurer's Office and has been known in that capacity to students and faculty for more than a quarter of a century.

Miss McCorkle is a native of Knoxville and attended school there, later enrolling for business and religious training courses in Chicago and elsewhere. Before coming to Maryville she was a department store secretary and bookkeeper in Johnson City, Tennessee, and for three years was on the staff at Lees-McRae College in North Carolina. She is a lifelong Presbyterian.

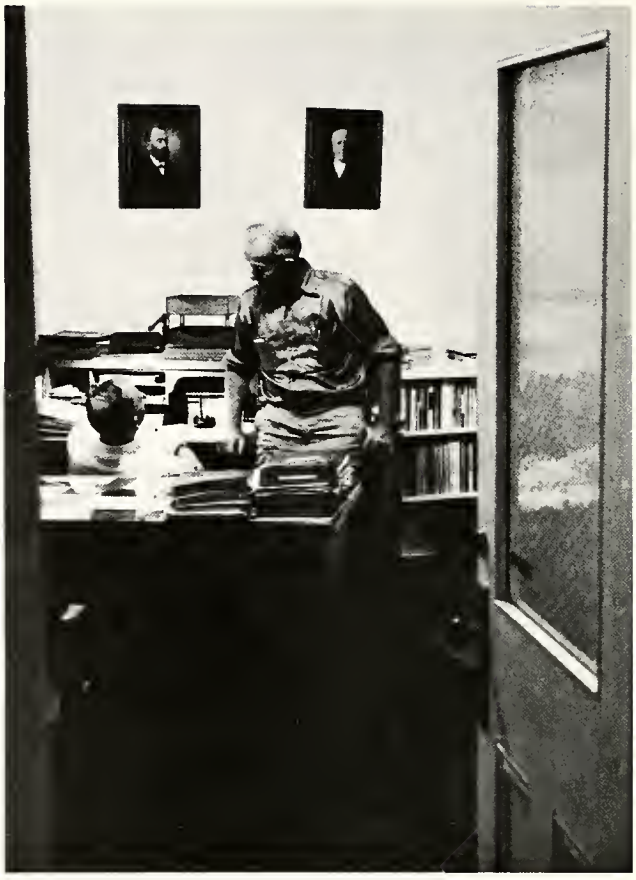
She has made a notable record for her loyalty and faithfulness and through most of her years of service could be found working on invoices and books in the Treasurer's Office long hours after closing time.

Miss McCorkle expects to make her residence in Maryville, where she will continue to have the good wishes of many friends on the campus and in the community.

BROWNIE:
"Our Most Unforgettable Character"

One of the leading magazines has a regular feature called "The Most Unforgettable Character I've Met." A great many Maryville College alumni, if asked to suggest a personality in recent times whose name has been virtually synonymous with the College, would certainly offer the name of Ernest C. Brown, the College engineer, known to generations of alumni as "Brownie." His booming salutation, warm handshake, lively humor, and devotion to Maryville College have endeared him for nearly fifty years with students, faculty, townspeople – in fact, with just about everyone who has had contact with him.

As Maryville College's public relations officer without portfolio, he is a unique ambassador of good-will. Recognition of this unusual career on the campus came last fall when Dr. Lloyd asked Brownie to appear before the Board of Directors at their fall meeting to do a little reminiscing. His remarks are produced verbatim as follows:



"Now it's this way, Dr. Lloyd."

Dr. Lloyd, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I feel highly honored to be asked to say a few words about my stay at Maryville College. I started to school in 1903 with Miss Margaret as my teacher in the 7th grade. Judge Gamble was teaching the 8th grade, and Professor Gill had charge of the prep school department.

I worked as a student in the summer after crops were laid by. We helped build Voorhees Chapel in 1904 at twelve and one-half cents per hour. We were cutting concrete. As most of you know, we were raised on the Brown farm adjoining the campus. After Mother and Father passed away, we sold it to the College. I was on the football squad in 1907-08 with some of our fifty-year men who will be here tomorrow. I am very fond of all sports.

I am thankful to Maryville College as a student for one thing that has happened to many. I met a good-looking girl who eventually became my wife, Jessie McCully. She had coal-black hair then, but now it is white as snow. After forty-five years, you can draw your own conclusion! Our two children finished at Maryville College, Bob in 1935 and Lois in 1937.

I can remember when we had only five buildings on the campus. Today we have twenty-one, a sign of progress. In October, 1910, Major Ben Cunningham, our business manager, invited me to come to the Hill to work. So here I am. We were making our own lights at that time. I operated the little dynamo for about three years. Mr. A. A. Brewer and Squire Joe Clemens were in charge in those days.

In 1916, I took over as campus engineer. We had lots of student labor in those days. A student fireman working one cold night went to sleep and nearly blew up one boiler. Heat was off for one day. I am proud of the fact that that is the only time the heat has been off.

We could unload a carload of brick before breakfast with student labor. I have very few student laborers today. They seem to have rocking chair money. I have about eighteen or twenty men working full time, which is much more satisfactory. As a youngster, I saw the annex of Anderson Hall built in 1894. Bartlett was built by students in 1895. They made and burned the brick on the campus. Science Hall was completed in 1898. The sad days were when Carnegie Hall burned in 1916 and the Chapel in 1947. Both have been rebuilt or replaced. Thaw was built in 1920. The new Fine Arts Center built by the Glen Lloyds and the new Chapel and Theatre are a godsend to our campus. Of course, we had to enlarge the new heat plant to heat them.

I have enjoyed helping to build more than half of these buildings. I have known and worked with three of our six presidents. Dr. Lloyd and his little reminders—the faculty—the entire staff—what a pleasure to have worked with them all!

We have seen lots of students come and go, and it sure does make us feel fine when we hear that they are doing well. I can't stop without mentioning Mrs. John Walker, who did so much to beautify our campus. She was a lovely woman. The trees, the shrubs, the walks, the streets, the steps, Morningside, the guest-house—she loved to plan for these and care for them.

Mrs. Brown and I have enjoyed and benefitted from all the social and spiritual activities on the Hill for these many years. Thank you.

This comment must evoke memories in the minds of many of the older alumni, yet even the youngest must join in the nostalgia induced by such a reminiscence. No tribute would be complete without some word of appreciation from Dr. Lloyd. He has prepared the following concise appraisal of Brownie and his contribution to Maryville College:

The senior member of the Maryville College faculty and staff is Mr. Ernest Chalmers Brown, whose title is Engineer, and whose duties cover the whole range of the maintenance program at the College.

He is known everywhere as "Brownie" – to the faculty and staff, to many generations of students, to alumni, and to the people of the city and county. Some years ago, he served two terms as City Commissioner and Vice Mayor of Maryville, leading all candidates in the number of votes polled. He and Mrs. Brown have lived on Court Street all of their married life. Their son Robert is a graduate of Maryville College, holds a Ph.D in Chemistry, and is with DuPont in Delaware. Their daughter Lois also is a graduate of Maryville College, is married to Judson Murphy, a leading automobile dealer in Maryville, and is active in church and community.

The historically notable fact about "Brownie" just now is that he has been in the employ of Maryville College since October, 1910. This is a service of almost 48 years, the longest in the history of the College. Previously, the longest was that of Dr. Samuel Tyndale Wilson who was a professor for seventeen years and President for twenty-nine years, a total of forty-six years.

The esteem in which Brownie is held is evidenced by the fact that a few weeks ago, a member of the Class of 1934, Herbert H. Fuller and his wife established the "Ernest C. Brown Scholarship Fund" in honor of Brownie.

Maryville College has been fortunate through almost a century and a half of service to the nation in the fact that her faculty and staff have been dedicated and devoted to the cause of Christian higher education. The record of Ernest C. Brown holds a lofty place in the annals of the College. That he may have many more years of service is the sincere wish of all of us who work with him. He is truly one of the unforgettable characters of our time.

ALUMNI CLUBS

Last November, the National Capital Alumni Club met and elected a new slate of officers. Chosen president for the coming year was Bob Osborne, of Arlington, Va. W. J. Marston, also of Arlington, was elected vice president. Mrs. David Goodspeed was chosen secretary-treasurer. She, too, hails from Arlington. What about that? John Laney, retiring president, showed color slides, some of which were furnished by the Alumni office.

In January, the Chattanooga Alumni met at the Town and Country with an excellent attendance. Charles Lewis was elected president and Marcia Williams was chosen secretary-treasurer. Scotty was present to brief alumni on current developments on the campus. The Chattanooga alumni are planning a barbecue or some similar function for this summer.

The Metropolitan Maryville College Alumni Club had a dinner meeting on Saturday, March 8, in the Regional Room of the Town and Country Restaurant in New York City. There were about fifty present, including two members of the Board of Directors of the College – Dr. Margaret Shannon, secretary of the Division of Women's Work, Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and Mr. James L. Getaz and his wife. Mr. Getaz is an associate secretary with the National Council of Presbyterian Men. Also present were Alumni Association President Don Briggs and his wife. Dr. Lloyd was present and discussed the activities of the College.

Archie Pieper was elected chairman for a two-year period and Miss Shirley Peterson was chosen secretary-treasurer.

DR. AND MRS. QUEENER PLAN SABBATICAL

Dr. Queener

Maryville College Phi Kappa Delta debaters from 1927 to 1950 met at Commencement last year for a testimonial dinner honoring Dr. Verton M. Queener, their former debate coach. George Webster, '41, master of ceremonies at the affair, presented Dr. Queener with a pen set and a check for $1,050 with the stipulation that the money was to be spent on a trip to England, a cherished dream of Dr. Queener's for many years.

Dr. and Mrs. Queener have asked for and have been granted a six-month Sabbatical leave of absence from the College for the Fall term of 1958. Dr. Queener will study at the University of London – Queen Mary's College. Mrs. Queener will study at the University of London – The Institute of Education. They will leave from New York City on the S. S. Statendam on August 1, and plan to visit France, Spain, and Scotland before the school term opens. They will return home during the Christmas holidays.

THE SPRING VACATION

For the first time, at least in the memory of man, Maryville College this year had a week-long schedule spring vacation.

It was placed at the middle of the semester (March 12-19) rather than at Easter which was not very near the middle, and also the Easter experiences on the campus are enriching to individuals and to the whole life of the College. The actual length of the semester was not shortened. The Christmas vacation was reduced from four to three weeks.

The Faculty and Directors have long recognized the need for a mid-spring "break," but have hesitated to close the College and force students from a distance to incur the expense of the trip home and back. It was decided, however, to try it a couple of years and then estimate which is the greater burden – the accumulated tension or the accumulated expense. The reports so far say everybody had a good time.

ALUMNI AWARDS IN FOOTBALL

In accordance with a decision of the Executive Board of the Alumni Association at the fall meeting, trophies for outstanding performance in football were purchased and awarded at the annual football banquet on November twenty-fifth.

The most valuable player award went to Robert (Buddy) Beam, captain and guard on the 1957 pigskin squad. Winner of the most improved player trophy was Earl Lawson, backfield ace who gave the opposition plenty of trouble last fall.

The awards came as a complete surprise to the squad, who had made the selections themselves with the aid of the coaches. The trophies were footballs mounted on a pedestal, suitably inscribed.

WINTER SPORTS ROUND-UP

The basketball squad, performing under Coach John A. (J. D.) Davis, had a rather unsuccessful season insofar as games won and lost are concerned. They won only two games, both with Emory and Henry. However, a number of the losses were by slim margins, attributable to the fact that four of the five consistent starters were freshmen. Tom Morris, junior center, averaged better than 23 points per game, placing him among the national leaders in small college circles, despite the obvious disadvantage of performing with a losing team.

Letters were awarded to senior John West, junior Tom Morris, and freshmen George Bales, Neal Wormsley, Bill Crisp, Keith Day, and Bill Owenby.

Coach Marvin Mitchell's matmen, handicapped by injuries to key personnel, enjoyed fair success. John Hawkins, heavyweight, went to the finals in the Southeastern championship tourney, only to lose a heartbreaker to the Chattanooga entry. Lettermen in wrestling were seniors Jim (Flash) Harris and John Anderson, and juniors Don Mull, John Hawkins, and Jack Emery.

COACH
LOMBE S. HONAKER

HONAKER IN 37TH YEAR OF COACHING BASEBALL AT MARYVILLE

With Larrupin' Lombe Honaker hitting a terrific pace with his baseballers, the spring sports program at Maryville is off to a tremendous start. The first game of the season—Coach Honaker's 37*th year* at Maryville! — went to the Highlanders over Kenyon College of Ohio by a score of 10-9. In the second half of a double-header, Maryville came out on top with a 3-2 margin.

As we go to press, the baseball team has won six out of seven games, the only loss being to Emory and Henry on a soaking wet diamond. The kids are knocking the cover off the ball, and several neat pitching assignments have been completed.

The track team under Marvin Mitchell has won its first and thus far only meet of the infant season with a victory over Tusculum by a convincing margin, and Dr. Case's netmen, handicapped by consistently wet courts, have won two matches and lost two.

All in all, it looks like '58 may be that Maryville year we've been talking about.
